Rail Men to Fight H. C. L. By Eliminating Middleman

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Organized railway employees have started on the other end of the line in an effort to solve the problem of the high cost of living. Unable to obtain relief through additional wage increases, which one of the chiefs said were invariably followed by increases in living costs, the four big railroad brotherhoods and the affiliated railway shop crafts have adopted a scheme to escape the profits of the middleman, by a system of co-operative buying, production and distribution of the necessities of life. Plans for the co-operative movement were laid at the farmer-labor conference at Chicago in November, and although they are yet in a tentative stage, a definite course of action is expected to be adopted at a second conference called for February 12-15 at Chicago.

The proposal calls for an alliance between farmers and laborers to create direct dealing between farm producers and city consumers, and between city producers and farm consumers. The plan is being worked out by the All-American Farm-Labor Co-operative Commission, which was formed after the November meeting in Chicago, and it includes the creation of warehouses as distributing centers and the organization of a co-operative bank.

Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons, George Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, A. J. Salfer, lord president of the council, E. S. Montague, secretary of state for India, and Lord Riddell, Premier Nitti and Foreign Minister Scialoja will represent Italy, while Premier Clemenceau and other officials will represent France.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—No meeting of the Supreme Council will be held today, it was announced, because of the illness of two of the British members. Besides it was said, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Nitti could not arrive in time to participate in any sessions today.

Twenty-five members of the British delegation which will attend the coming session of the League of Nations arrived last night. Exchange of formal ratifications, placing the treaty of Versailles in effect, will take place at the French foreign office at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, it was announced officially today. Only those nations which have ratified the treaty will take part in the ceremonies. They are Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Peru, Poland, Spain, Czechoslovakia, Uruguay and Germany.

Hardee Will Direct War Stamp Campaign

The 1929 campaign for distribution of war savings stamps and certificates will be in charge of Theodore Hardee, of San Francisco.

His appointment as director of the war loan organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District has been announced by John U. Calkins, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank. Hardee succeeds Robert E. Smith of Portland. Clovis A. Farnsworth is associate director.

Father Dies Before Oakland Son Arrives

Francis Marion Stewart, father of Richard Evans Stewart, of the Van Dyke Studio in Oakland, died at his home in Bolivar, Missouri, on December 31, after a brief illness, according to word received from Stewart, who made a hurried trip to his old home. Stewart left Oakland December 29 for Bolivar, but did not arrive until several hours after his father had died. Besides Stewart there are six sons and a daughter, all residents of Missouri.

Only recently has it been possible to obtain a lens giving perfect vision for both distance and close vision with the appearance and convenience of a single lens. The origin of the bifocal was with Benjamin Franklin's split bifocals which were finally developed into the well known cement bifocal with the seam across the central portion. The idea had its final perfection in the evolution of

"Soviet Ark" With 249 Radicals Nears Kiel Canal

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The "Soviet Ark" Buford with its cargo of 249 radical aliens, is about to enter the Kiel canal, according to official dispatches received here today. While still refusing to disclose the destination of the ship, officials said "a very good guess might be ventured since passage through the canal has become known."

It was believed that the Buford would go to Luga, a port in Latvia, to discharge its radicals for transportation across the country into Soviet Russia.

So far as has been made known, negotiations for the transportation of the radicals across the Baltic to the port of Luga, in Latvia, have not been completed, and the government will await the outcome of the Buford's voyage before deciding any more radicals.

"General Von Hindenburg" Takes Place of John Doe

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—"Favor Bolshevism" who are raising a fund to assist the "Soviet Ark," carrying radicals from the United States to Russia, is lying in the English Channel awaiting orders before proceeding, according to a wireless message picked up here last night.

An indignation protest against being named as General Von Hindenburg was made by Miss Mary O'Connor, former secretary of the Union Land Company, when she appeared in court this morning before Judge A. F. St. Sure to testify.

Miss O'Connor registered her complaint to Judge R. B. Tappan, appearing on behalf of the plaintiffs.

Judge Tappan endeavored to mollify Miss O'Connor's indignation by declaring that he only used the name of Von Hindenburg as a fictitious name, not knowing her correct name at the time the suit was filed.

Miss O'Connor pointed out that any other name than the chief's daughter could have been used and would have been more acceptable.

In the complaint Judge Tappan named other possible defendants as Judas Iscariot, William the Conqueror, Frederick the Great and Louis XIV. The suit is brought by Bertha Anderson against the Josephine Phelps estate to foreclose a mortgage to satisfy a claim of $5500 in promissory notes. Suit was continued until January 14.

Special Interest Shown in Spanish

Opening of the new semester at the Technical Evening High School this week has been featured by remarkable interest in the study of Spanish, many new members enrolling for both the beginners and advanced classes. Classes two nights a week are conducted for Monday and Wednesday, and Tuesday and Thursday. A special one-night-a-week class will begin Friday. Enrollment for all the classes is still continuing. Instruction is free.

Miss Ming, who at first declared that she had been kidnapped by Hunt, has explained that she entered the automobile under the impression that the driver was Clayton Hunt, brother of Frank, and with whom she was accustomed to riding home from the Franklin street telephone exchange. Hunt admits taking the girl for a ride, declares he did not impersonate his brother, and denies the rest of the girl's story.

Charged with nothing more serious than simple battery, Frank Hunt, 501 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, who is alleged by Miss Helen Ming, Chinese telephone operator, to have attacked her on a lonely Castro Valley road Tuesday night, was arraigned this morning before Justice Frank Mitchell Jr. at Hayward. He pleaded not guilty and is being held in $500 bail for trial on Monday morning.

None of the cases of refusal to give information so far encountered have been so serious as that of the alleged refusal of the Chinese girl to give information to the census taker when they call at his residence this evening.

FARMERS SUFFER EXTENDED DROUTH

Farming interests in Alameda county are suffering by reason of protracted dry weather and the prevailing north winds, which have swept over this section for the last forty-eight hours, according to Fred Seuberger, county horticultural commissioner.

Flowers and small plants and shrubs have been considerably damaged, Seuberger says. Growth of roses has been completely arrested, according to the horticultural commissioner. In part Seuberger said today:

"The lack of rain has been a serious drawback to farming and the heavy north winds have dried out most of the moisture near the surface of the soil. Several creeks have failed and wells have gone dry, thus seriously interfering with the irrigation of small home tracts."

"It is hoped that the heavy winds will bring rain soon, for farms and orchards are badly in need of plenty of moisture. Spraying of orchards has been halted by the winds that are continuing for an unusually long spell. It is impossible to do successful spraying when the wind is blowing."

Census Enumerators Find Greatest Trouble Among Foreign Born Residents

Census enumerators at work on the 1920 decennial count of the city's population are having their greatest difficulty among foreigners, according to the census takers. The information required by the census, of all nationalities, Census Supervisor C. L. Donohoe says that the Italians give the most trouble.

More of such co-operation from the citizens of Oakland is necessary, Donohoe says, and in practice all cases after explanations have been made the required information has been freely given.

These explanations are costly delays, however, and many of the enumerators are giving up their work because of the difficulty encountered with the foreign element.

This difficulty may be partially overcome by the distribution of posters which were received today from Washington which explain the census and are printed in a half dozen of the commoner foreign languages and are being passed about the city by the census inspectors.

"JAPANESE AID WORKERS" The Japanese and Chinese have given the least trouble, Donohoe said this morning. "In many cases persons of these races have the information all written out and ready for the census workers."

School children throughout the city today are busy writing essays on the work of the census as a part of the educational campaign which is being waged to put over the census here and there. The campaign is being waged to put over the census here and there. The campaign is being waged to put over the census here and there.

J. W. McAlister, Auto Distributor, Dies

J. W. McAlister, 59 years old, vice-president of the H. O. Harrison company, motor car distributor, died Tuesday evening at the family home in Los Angeles after an illness of five months.

During later years McAlister always made his home in the southern metropolis, but he was a frequent visitor to Oakland and San Francisco and had a host of friends here.

In addition to his widow, Mrs. Josephine McAlister, there are surviving him two sons and two daughters, J. W. McAlister Jr., of Fresno; Harold McAlister, Miss Josephine McAlister and Miss Mary McAlister.

Buffalo Terminal Damaged by Blaze

BY UNITED PRESS.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Damage of $500,000 was caused by fire in the Buffalo freight terminal warehouse today. The lives of more than 100 employees were endangered.

The last guinea minted in England bears the date of 1812.

STREET WIDENING NOTICES ORDERED

In preparation for the commencement of work on the widening of Fifteenth street between Broadway and Franklin streets, the city council this morning authorized Superintendent of Streets Marston Campbell to notify property owners along the street to reconstruct the outer walls of alleyways, the walls of which must be moved back to make possible the widening of the sidewalks.

At the request of Commissioner W. J. McCusker the council today referred to the city attorney a petition from P. A. Belser to be relieved from a private contract for the improvement of Twenty-fifth avenue between East Fourteenth and East Sixteenth streets. A week ago Belser was cited to explain to the council why he had completed the job under his contract.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell the difference so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

MAN'S BEST AGE

A man is as old as his organs; he can be as vigorous and healthy at 70 as at 35 if he aids his organs in performing their functions. Keep your vital organs healthy with

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles since 1696; corrects disorders; stimulates vital organs. All druggists, three sizes. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

NINE MILLION TONS HANDLED ON S. F. DOCKS

Nine million tons of cargo freight passed over the wharves in San Francisco during 1919 and 164 cars of cargo freight were handled on the Belt railroad last year, according to a statement just issued by the state board of harbor commissioners on the harbor activities of the last twelve months.

It is pointed out that the port of San Francisco enjoys the distinction of being one of the world's leading seaports in the matter of low charges against foreign and off-shore shipping trade.

Constructive development of the port facilities is shown by a list of items which tell the story of the success that has attended the inauguration of the new policy of port charges and of the program for the development of foreign commerce.

The board shows that the harbor, under its control operated as self-sustaining from its own revenues without income from any source of State or municipal taxation, has assets of $36,500,000, extent of 8 1/2 miles from the Golden Gate to the San Mateo county line, with 40 piers of varying sizes, a cargo area of 121 acres, or 50 average, city blocks sufficient to care for 1,500,000 tons of cargo a month, and 15 miles of berthing space, accommodating 240 ships of average size at one time.

In the last seven years the entire waterfront has virtually been reconstructed.

There have been connected with the Belt railroad, cargo handling equipment has been installed, there now being available locomotive cranes and floating derricks of ample capacity to handle large tonnage.

The board is committed to the policy of providing piers and cargo space as the needs require. There is now available $3,000,000 in bonds unsold for that work.

MAY DROP CLASS IN ADVANCED LATIN

Echoes of the old argument concerning the relative importance of the study of the classical and the modern languages in high schools are brought up with the proposed omission from the curriculum of the high senior or 12B Latin class at the Fremont high school, Forty-sixth avenue and Foothill boulevard.

Enrollment in the classical languages has steadily decreased in the past five years, the Fremont high school having dropped the study of Greek from its program in 1916. The decrease in the advanced Latin enrollment at the Fremont high school has made it necessary either to abandon the advanced class, or to combine it with another Latin class it is said.

Olney, state commissioner of secondary schools is opposed to the dropping of the advanced class, or to the combining of the two classes in the southern part of the state that Latin and Greek be restored to a position of prominence in the curriculum of high school students. A similar position is taken by E. R. Snyder, state commissioner of vocational and industrial education who says, "What we want to do in the schools is to go forward—not backward."

Classes Shifted to Minimize Crowding

Half of the students of Fremont High School will come at 7:45 in the morning and leave at 1:08 in the afternoon and the other half will come at 1:08 and remain until 4:45 according to the new program of studies at that high school made public by Principal H. D. Brasfield. The new plan, he explains, is made necessary because of crowded conditions in the school, the number of classes being too large for the number of class rooms unless the school day is lengthened.

The older students are to come for the morning session and the freshmen and sophomore classes will meet during the afternoon. The new plan will go into effect when the spring semester opens on January 26.

British Women Like Shipbuilding Work

LONDON, Jan. 8.—"Women have come into shipbuilding and engineering and have come to stay," says Professor Kirkaldy, of Birmingham university. Figures prepared by Miss L. Grier, however, show that, taking industry as a whole there are only 3 per cent more women employed now than in 1914. Where at the time of the armistice 36 per cent of all industrial employes were women, women now form only 28 per cent.

Fremont High to Open Spanish Class

A class in Spanish will be organized at the Fremont Evening High School, Forty-sixth avenue and Foothill boulevard as soon as twelve persons enroll for this work, according to an announcement made today by Principal L. M. Washburn of the evening high school. The new term at the school opened Monday with an increased attendance.

Officer and Bandit Suspect Are Killed

DENVER, Jan. 8.—Officer James Boggs died today from effects of wounds received Monday when policemen were battling with Adrian Thompson, a youth whom the officers sought to arrest as a bandit suspect. Thompson was killed by the fire from Boggs' revolver.

Small Colleges Seek $400,000,000 in Drive

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—A nation-wide drive to raise a four hundred million dollar fund for small colleges of the country will be launched in the spring, according to an announcement made here today by Robert L. Kelly, executive secretary of the Association of American colleges.

BIG GUN TARGET PRACTICE, SPORT

Various persons have varying ideas on fun and excitement. Some men find them in dominoes, some in sailing toy ships on a pond, some in soaring above the earth in airplanes or tiptoeing over Niagara on a wire.

H. L. Prather, recruiting officer at the naval station, Fourteenth and San Pablo, Oakland, the "Liberty Hut," says. Give me target practice with the big guns.

"They are the real thrill producers," he declares. "You've probably heard a lot about the big guns of the naval railroad batteries in France. Well, each of our up-to-date dreadnaughts carries ten or twelve guns as big or bigger, and when they all fire together, and keep firing, once a minute, it beats any celebration anywhere."

He asserts that work with a gun crew in a turret gives men well-knit bodies and clear, quick-acting minds.

Showing co-operation between American forces report has been received at the hut of the enrollment of six enlisted men of the army at the Navy Aerological school at Pensacola, Fla. Fifteen men have begun the course which will last four months. Three came from the marine corps and six from the naval air and training stations.

COLORED WOMAN ENUMERATED AS 115 YEARS OLD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Anna Prather, colored, has been officially listed here as 115 years old by federal census enumerators here. She told Paul F. Collins, census taker of Los Angeles and later D. W. Sanderson, a census expert of Washington, D. C., that she was 29 years old when the stars fell, referring to a meteorological phenomenon in 1837.

She was born in South Carolina, she said, was sold fifteen times as a slave, acted as a nanny to fifty-two white children while her three own offspring died, and ran away from three masters only to be recaptured each time.

While telling her life story she busied herself with sewing.

French Legion Honors San Francisco Hero

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Raphael Weil has been made an officer of the French Legion of Honor in recognition of his war services and his work in the French colony of this city according to an announcement of Consul-General for France Julien Nelner that official word of the additional honor for Weil had come from the French government.

Since 1908 which honor was conferred upon him for his service to the people of San Francisco including the French in the distress which followed the fire of 1906. Under the new ratings, he is allowed to wear a red rosette in his buttonhole where he formerly wore a narrow strip of red ribbon.

JUNIORS TO OPEN RED CROSS SHOP

A Junior Red Cross shop will be opened in Oakland next week at the old site of the Red Cross shop on Twelfth street near Clay. The Alameda County Health Center will share in the management. Judge C. C. Snook is chairman of the board of directors. Mrs. Bernard Ransome, vice-chairman, and Miss Ruth Wilder, secretary. Superintending the new enterprise is Miss Florence LaGanke, director of home economy in the Oakland schools.

Mrs. Wolfe, former manager of the shop, will take up the work again. In conjunction with the shop, it is planned to carry on the task begun by school children of collecting and tagging clothes and other articles.

Profits, it is announced, will be donated to benefit local children. The directors of the Health Center have offered the facilities of their organization.

$500,000,000 Sought to Evangelize World

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 8.—A budget of more than $500,000,000 will be necessary to evangelize the world, according to leaders of the survey conference of the Inter-church World Movement of North America launched yesterday.

A committee of the general board of promotion of the Northern Baptist convention accepted a quota of $1,000,000 as its share in the Inter-church Movement.

Lucrezia Bori

on BEAUTY

The short skirts now so fashionable have revealed how many women there are with unsymmetrical legs and ankles. We frequently hear the re-never knew there were so many badly formed women until short skirts became in fashion."

Upon analysis you will find that many times the physical defect is in the ankles, and not in the legs. If a woman walks on the side of her foot—"turning on one or both feet inward"—gives her the appearance of being bow-legged. That so many women have crooked ankles in this way is due either to weakness of the ankle joint or to habit. As children began to walk on the side of one foot, or both, and the fault became a permanent uncorrected one, it became a habit. This method of walking is frequently due also to turning of the ankle through weakness.

Some women turn their feet outward, by throwing their weight on the inner sides of their ankles. Sometimes this type of curvature is found only in one ankle. Whether the turning of an ankle is due to habit or to weakness it should be corrected, and a good habit of throwing the greater part of your weight on one side of your foot will in time produce weakness of your ankle.

CONSIDER YOUR FEET.

Do you know whether your ankles are weak? French-heeled shoes accentuate this fault of carriage. It is surprising how many otherwise attractive, well-groomed women do not realize this, and persist in wearing high heels incapable of supporting weak ankles.

French heels turn over under the weak ankle in such an unattractive manner that if a woman could see herself as others see her, from the

GAVE FRIEND A BIG SURPRISE

Mrs. Page Improved So Rapidly On Tanlac, Caller Was Astonished

"Giving a statement to be published is a new experience for me," said Mrs. Joseph E. Page, residing at 115 Trolley way, Venice, California, in an interview recently. "Tanlac has done so much for me that I want to tell everybody about it."

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," she continued, "I was one of the sickest persons you ever saw to be on my feet at all. A few months ago I was taken with an attack of indigestion and words can't describe the suffering I have been through since that time. I sometimes wonder if I am here to tell about it and I could not be if I had not taken Tanlac. This attack came on me suddenly one night and I was through my stomach and back that could not have hurt worse if I had been pierced with a knife. My stomach was left in such a bad condition that I could not take any nourishment at all without great suffering. After making an attempt to eat, my stomach and back were so sore that I got no better. Then I was sent to the hospital for treatment, and at the end of two weeks I was still no better. So they brought me home one of the worst discouraged and down-hearted persons you ever saw. I had lost twenty-eight pounds in nine weeks and was so nervous I could hardly get one foot before the other, much less do any of my work. I was living principally on milk and just felt that I could go no further without some relief."

"They wanted to operate on me and if my husband had not insisted that I try Tanlac first, the operation would have been my thing else that could have been done for me. My husband read a testimonial to me. He described my case very exactly, so he brought me a bottle of Tanlac. Well, after I had been taking this medicine for about ten days a friend of mine had not seen me in several days, came in and said: 'Why, I never saw such an improvement in a person in a time as you have shown. I would like to know what I had taken to make me look so much stronger and better.' Then he encouraged me to keep on with Tanlac and I could feel myself getting better every day. I soon started to eat and did not have the slightest pain or discomfort afterward. I am on my sixth bottle now, and am not only feeling perfectly well, but I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I can do my housework and care for the children with as much ease as I ever could, for I am feeling just fine in every way. So I have the best of reasons for praising Tanlac, and my only regret is that I did not take it sooner."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Drug Company, Inc., 1000 Broadway, San Francisco.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain attending them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever puffed with "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless "good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c.

Safe Home Treatment for Objectionable Hairs

(Boudoir Secrets)

The electric razor is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain deodorant the most stubborn growth can be quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder, spread over the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. Be sure you get genuine deodorant. —Advertisement.

TRUCK SPEEDS ON PNEUMATIC TIRES

A truck record between Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles, held amazing by experts, was made by a Pacoel truck, equipped with Goodyear pneumatic cord tires, which left San Francisco last Monday night and clocked in at THE TRIBUNE building yesterday afternoon after a trip to Los Angeles.

The four-ton truck traveled 23 miles an hour. The best time made by trucks at the same weight with solid tires has been around 12 miles an hour. The trial was declared a success for all time the convention of some that the motor truck is a slow method of conveyance. Automobiles, recalled supposedly fast trips in touring cars that consumed an hour or so less time.

"That the surprising record was made possible by the Goodyear tires," was asserted by those who studied the truck's achievement.

Commercial assignments and a full load were carried by the Pacoel. The shipment included $700 pounds of mail-order roofing from the Pacific Paraffin and Paint Company on the down trip.

The truck left San Francisco at 9:45 p. m. Monday and arrived in Los Angeles the following day at 5:08 p. m., an elapsed time of 19 hours and 53 minutes. The down trip was made over the coast route and covered 454.4 miles.

The valley route was used on the return, and the distance of 403.3 miles was made in 17 hours and 59 minutes, ending at THE TRIBUNE building in Oakland at 8:08 yesterday afternoon. On the return the truck was loaded with pressed newspapers for delivery to the Pacific Paraffin and Paint Company.

The drivers were Howard Scholler and Herbert Temple, who "spelled" each other at the wheel.

Following the Pacoel in a Cadillac touring car were H. D. Hadenfeldt, wholesale manager of the Butler-Vetich company, Pacific distributor; Gilbert McNeil of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, and Jimmy Hall of the Elliott-Pabst company.

Hallo was the official observer for the trip, selected by newspapermen of the three cities. He filed a report on the times, mileage and gasoline consumption.

HEALTH LAWS TO BE AMENDED

The report just submitted to the city by the State Board of Health after a survey of general health conditions in Oakland is expected to result in important and radical changes in health regulation measures in the city and in the administration of the municipal Health Department.

The survey, now in the hands of Mayor John F. Davidson, was prepared and recommended by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse, and Health Officer Dr. Daniel Crosby.

"Out of this survey made by experts should come some very definite and constructive changes in the general health situation," said Dr. Crosby today. "I have repeatedly said that there should be a full-time trained health officer in charge of the municipal health bureau, instead of a part-time untrained man, and it is possible that this investigation may have that result."

According to Dr. Crosby, the report contains an exhaustive investigation of water supply, food supply and garbage disposal questions, and all of the activities under control of the Health Department, including inspection, drainage systems, tenement house problems, milk supervision and meat supply. There are included a number of suggestions, some of which will be considered at once by the authorities and others of which are precluded from adoption under the present charter.

"Big Five" to File Several Statements

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Packer representatives will state their views on the Palmer dissolution arrangement and the necessity for further regulatory legislation before the Senate agriculture committee today.

Several statements probably will be filed by the Chicago concerns and a few witnesses are expected to be heard.

Attorney General Palmer plans to file anti-trust action against the "big five" on Monday or Tuesday, it was learned today at the department of justice. This will be Palmer's first step in carrying out the dissolution agreement under which the packers are to dissolve their connections with hundreds of subsidiary concerns.

Suit brought against Mrs. Violet A. Deegan, "patron companion" of Albert W. Crouch, by George F. Winter for $500 alleged due in attorney's fees, was continued today for a month by agreement between attorneys when the case was called before Judge Dudley Kinsell.

Attorney Winter claims the money due for his handling of a suit to quiet title brought by Major William J. Deegan of New York, against the property purchased by Mrs. Deegan in Fruitvale, Mrs. Deegan claims she does not owe Winter anything, but that on the contrary he should return $100 paid him for filing a divorce suit against her husband in which the papers have never been served upon him.

Popular Young Woman Becomes Bride of James Folds at Ceremony Across Bay

HAYWARD, Jan. 8.—The former Miss Ida Molm is receiving the congratulations of her Hayward friends today upon her marriage to James Folds of San Francisco.

The marriage ceremony, which took place last Sunday at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. George Christensen, 937 A street, was performed by the Rev. Josiah Daniels of the Hayward Presbyterian church, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Miss Saddle Molm, a sister of the bride, attended her. The bridegroom was attended by Anthony Kline.

The bride presented a charming appearance in a broad-brimmed suit trimmed with sealskin fur.

Miss Molm was born in Hayward and has many friends here. She is generally regarded as a kind-hearted and attractive young woman.

Her husband is a member of a typewriter firm in San Francisco and has a large circle of acquaintances in Hayward. They will make their home in San Francisco.

After the ceremony a luncheon was served. In the evening the couple departed by motor for a honeymoon. There was rather a sprightly scene at the time of departure when friends showered them with rice and tagged their car with a "Just Married" sign.

After their departure they were given a reception by friends in Sacramento.

Alameda Passes Goal in Seal Sale

With $10,000 the goal for the receipts from the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals, the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has made a record and yesterday passed the seemingly improbable mark which was realized through the distribution of the penny stickers. With funds still being counted, officials report that considerable more than $10,000 will be turned into the local treasury.

Husband Seeks to Set Aside Deed to Wife

Although he claims that he and his wife are still on good terms and are living together in their home at 1815 Grand street, Alameda, Gustav Magman, a native of France, has filed a suit, through Attorney Abe J. Leach, to have set aside a deed to the home made out to his wife in 1913.

Magman says he was ill in 1913 and when his wife urged him to return to France to recuperate he came to Oakland instead. Shortly afterward he moved out the deed to his wife, Mrs. Marie Magman, telling her that if he should die she could have the deed recorded without trouble and come into possession of the property. Last year he discovered it was gone. He says Mrs. Magman admitted she had taken it but did not say where it was. Magman sought Leach December 30 last and said he did not know where the deed was. Investigation showed it had been recorded the previous day.

CAMPBELL QUILTS MUNICIPAL POST

Superintendent of Streets Marston Campbell announced today his acceptance of the position of chief of construction in charge of the approaching school buildings program, following a conference yesterday with members of a committee comprising delegates from the building program committee of the School Department and the citizens' bond expenditure committee.

Campbell's acceptance of the position is subject to the ratification by the Board of Education of the building program plans adopted Tuesday night by the committees in charge. The program will be submitted at the next meeting of the board.

Efforts were made by Commissioner of Streets William J. Bacus to retain Campbell, who is also an official City Engineer, in the Street Department, it developed today, but the attempt was lost because of the present line-up of the City Council, which prevented Bacus from securing sufficient votes to offer Campbell a larger salary.

Bacus said today that he had prepared an ordinance increasing Campbell's salary to $5000 a year, following a conference with Commissioner F. F. Morse, when the latter declared that the city should not lose Campbell's services and intimated that he would vote for the increase. After the ordinance was drawn up, Bacus says, Commissioner Morse declined to vote for it unless all five votes in the Council could be secured.

Campbell's present salary is $4500 a year, and according to Commissioner Bacus his new position will carry with it a salary amounting to $12,000 a year. Campbell declared his regret at having to leave the street department and offered to stay if his present salary should be increased to $8000.

Following Commissioner Morse's statement that he would not vote for the ordinance unless the entire five votes could be secured, Commissioner Bacus canvassed the Council membership, but was met by the refusal of Commissioner W. H. Edwards and Commissioner Frederick Soderberg to vote for the increase.

It was declared this morning, if Campbell's appointment is accepted by the School Board he will leave the city employ in about a month's time.

WOMAN IS FINED FOR SMUGGLING

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A fine of $275 was imposed on Mrs. Mary Vint, wife of a wealthy importer of Hongkong, when she pleaded guilty today before United States District Judge Frank Deitrich to a charge of having smuggled several hundred dollars worth of cigarettes into this country from the Orient. The feathers have been confiscated.

Mrs. Vint has been stopping at the St. Francis Hotel since her arrival here from Hongkong by way of Seattle. At her hearing before Commissioner Krull she asserted that some person, unidentified, had seized the package into the trunk of her car for the purpose of getting her into trouble with the federal authorities.

In entering a plea of guilty before Judge Deitrich Mrs. Vint, through her attorney, Arthur Joel, explained that she had decided to plead guilty as a trial would delay her departure east, where she is to join her husband.

Husband Struck Her Down, Wife Charges

F. Parker Ingols, a salesman living on East Thirty-first street, near Fourteenth avenue, refused to go with his wife to New Year's dinner with relatives a week ago or to kiss his 10-year-old daughter good-bye when she asked him to, threw pillows at his wife, telling her he had given her a strong hint to stay away, once knocked her down and when she arose told her to take off her glasses and he would give her some glasses, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Minnie S. Ingols, filed today.

Mrs. Ingols also charges that when her father was ill her husband refused to permit anyone to telephone for a physician, objected to going to funeral and refused to eat at the same table with her relatives. She asks $75 a month alimony. They were married in Oakland in 1906.

Civil Service Board to Ask for New Man

The move of the city council yesterday in abolishing the position of efficiency accountant in the civil service board and recreating the position in the office of City Clerk Lon Cummings under the control of the council will probably be considered at the meeting of the civil service board tomorrow night, according to Secretary Frank C. Colbourn.

The abolition of the position in the civil service department deprives the board of the services of S. W. Cook, whose duty, according to Colbourn, were considerably greater than those of an efficiency man, and will necessitate another employee in the department.

The council will probably be asked to supply the need by providing for another employee, Colbourn says. The action taken by the council yesterday will become effective seven days hence unless some contrary move is made in the meantime.

ROTARIANS SEEK INDUSTRIAL BASIS

Pursuing its policy of discussing problems relative to the relations existing between employer and employee, in an effort to reach a basis upon which industrial disputes may be settled without resort to strikes or lockouts, the Rotary club went into further detail at its luncheon in the Hotel Oakland today regarding "The Worker's Fair Share."

Several members of the club spoke on the subject, and all phases of the question were gone into extensively. The Rotarians are devoting much attention to problems, the solution of which is expected to do much for industrial and commercial advancement in this community.

It is pointed out by the members of the club that the most important task that confronts the country is the solution of the labor problem in a way that will bring about more amicable relations between employer and employee, and to this end they are lending their energies.

CITY WINS BASIN DREDGING SUIT

Litigation covering a period of six years in the State and Federal courts, in the controversy between the city and the Standard American Dredging company over dredging in the Key Route basin, has been brought to a close through a final decision rendered in favor of the city in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

City Attorney H. L. Hagan has received notification of the decision rendered affirming the judgment of the northern California United States District court. The judgment is expected to be final and will definitely end the long controversy, according to Hagan.

The case just decided is a sequel to that determined by the District Court of Appeals of the State of California in March, 1918, affirming judgment rendered by Superior Judge Iverett J. Brown in favor of the city when the case was first carried to the courts. The suit was instituted by the company, which is a New Jersey corporation, for the recovery of $4,692.60 alleged to have

WINNIPEG LOANS MONEY TO BUILD CITIZENS' HOMES

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—The housing commission operating under the city's housing plan will make a loan of $5 per cent of the net cost of the home, it was announced today.

A first mortgage will be taken on the property for 20 years, repayable at the rate of $1.15 a month for each $1000 borrowed. The builder may select his own lot in any part of the city and pay any part or all of the borrowed money without notice at any time.

Hearing is Set On Fishing Regulations

A public hearing is announced by the board of engineers appointed by the city to consider fishing regulations in the Key Route basin. The hearing will be held February 2 at 10:30 a. m. in room 237, Merchants' Trust building, San Francisco.

The board of engineers is proposed to prevent obstruction of navigation by the fishermen.

D'ANNUNZIO SENDS ENVOY TO PARIS

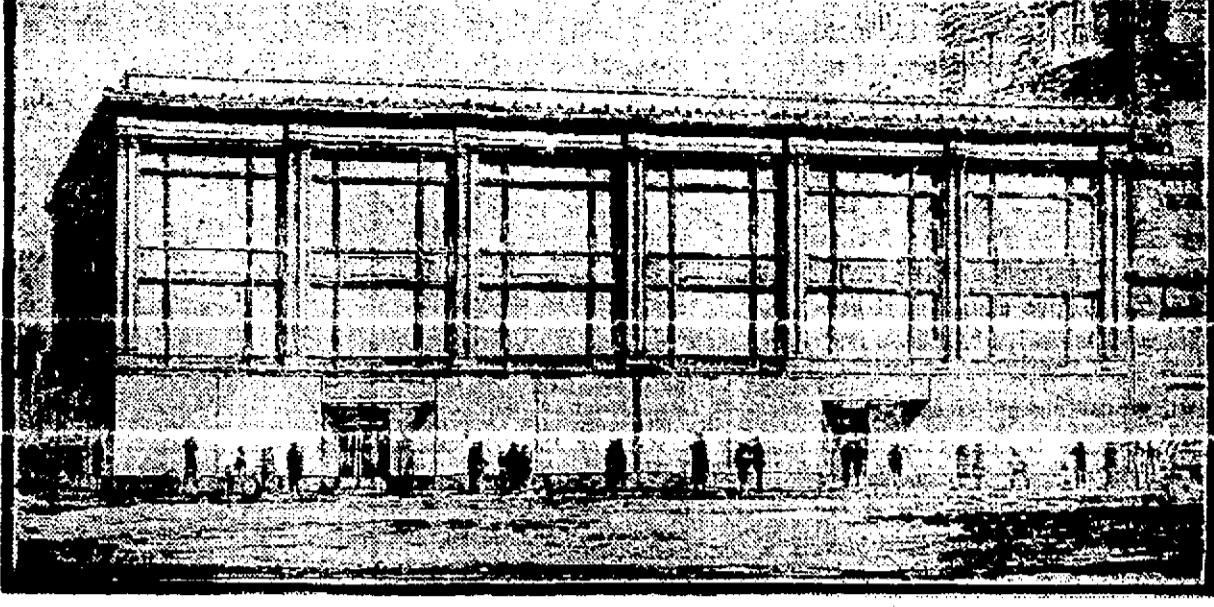

TRIESTE, Tuesday, Jan. 8 (by the Associated Press).—Major Giurati, who recently resigned as chief of Gabriele D'Annunzio's cabinet at Piume, left here tonight for Paris on a special mission for the insurgent leader in the Adriatic.

"I am going to Paris on a special mission committed to me by Captain D'Annunzio," he said. "I am unable at present to tell you what my mission is, but it deals with certain phases of our question."

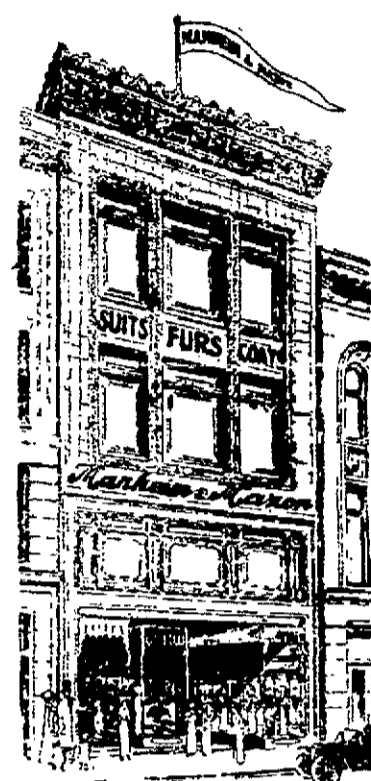

It was stated that there is disagreement with Captain D'Annunzio were true. Our differences were over questions of policy. I left the office of chief of the cabinet and went back to my battalion because of our inability to agree. But there is no conflict between D'Annunzio and myself on Italy's aspirations for the annexation of Piume.

MADAME POWELL, VIOLINIST, DIES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 8.—Madame Maud Powell, well known throughout the country as a violinist, died in a hotel here today. She suffered a nervous breakdown yesterday and became so ill that her concert last night was cancelled.

Few women instrumentalists have gained either in this country or abroad a wider recognition than Maud Powell. She not only was one of the earliest of women violinists to play in public in this country, but she was quite the first violinist, man or woman, to be recorded for the phonograph. Her home has been in New York city, but at The Knoll, Whitefield, New Hampshire, in the summer, her name in private life was Mrs. Turner. Her husband being H. Godfrey Turner of Powling, New York. She was fifty-one years of age.

Maud Powell made her debut in Berlin in 1885, having spent several years in the same year her American debut was made with the New York Philharmonic Society. She has since toured this country several times, as well as the British Isles, the continent, South Africa and elsewhere. She has introduced to this country many of the most important compositions of European composers of recent years, particularly Rimsky-Korsakov, Tchaikovsky, Dvorak and Saint-Saens. In 1894 she organized the Maud Powell String Quartet, which remained for some years one of the leading chamber music societies of the country. She has appeared, besides, in recital, as guest artist with orchestras under Thomas, Seidl, Nikisch, Damrosch and many others.

Her last appearance in Oakland before the Teachers' Association, and in Berkeley before the Berkeley Musical Association, was in 1916.

PRISONER DENIED CHANGE OF PLEA

An attempt by Clarence McAllister, colored soldier, third defendant on trial for the murder of Arthur Woodard during a gambling game, to change his plea to guilty of manslaughter, was denied today by Judge James G. Quinn.

Judge J. J. Jerome, representing the defendant, announced that McAllister wanted to change his plea after the jury had taken their places. The jury was excused while McAllister withdrew his plea of not guilty to murder and Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris agreed to accepting the plea of manslaughter. Judge Quinn, however, denied the offer and reminded the jury that two women witnesses had testified that McAllister had a gun in his hand on the night of the murder.

McAllister with John H. Martin, already convicted of murder, was charged with accomplices. It being established that Ernest Dykes was the man who fired the shot. He also has been convicted of murder and is serving a life term in San Quentin.

Fear was expressed by the defense that McAllister had been prejudiced by the jury by the announcement made before them that he desired to change his plea. Judge Quinn pointed out that the jury had the option of finding McAllister only guilty of manslaughter if they desired and said he did not wish to show discrimination in favor of the defendant after his two companions had been convicted. Upon their return, the jurors were instructed by the court to disregard the announcement of a change of plea.

Manheim and Mazor Show Confidence in Future of City by Extensive Enlargement

A further great stride in the march of development of the women's retail shopping district in Oakland on Broadway north of Fourteenth street will be made with the building of a new $275,000 store by Manheim & Mazor on the property directly north of the Syndicate building.

Destruction of the small buildings now situated on the property will be commenced April 1, and the work on the new structure will be rushed so that it will be ready for occupancy September 1.

The new building is to be a Class A structure of reinforced concrete, containing every modern convenience, including the newest type of fast passenger elevators with the latest hoisting devices, the most recent development of the "concealed sprinkler" fire protection system, hardwood floors throughout and innumerable other improvements.

LARGE FLOOR SPACE

Floor space available for the firm, whose entire attention will be devoted exclusively to women's, misses', children's and infants' ready-to-wear apparel, will total 22,500 square feet divided among four floors, as follows: Basement, sales room, 750 square feet; first floor, 5500; mezzanine, 2750, and second floor, 13,750.

This space will be apportioned among departments for coats, suits, dresses, skirts, furs, millinery, robes, kimono, corsets, brassieres, khaki, bathing goods, gymnasium goods, tub skirts, waists, petticoats, sweaters, middie, house dresses, lingerie, aprons, hosiery, children's wear, underwear, wear, muslin and silk underwear, tub dresses, shoes, jewelry, manicuring, leather goods, hair-cutting, silk hose, petticoats, toilet articles, and a large stock of novelties and accessories and many more.

With the installation of these departments, the new Manheim & Mazor store will have full equipment to make it the largest exclusive women's specialty shop in Oakland, if not in the entire bay region.

Among the new departments contemplated is one for shoes, which is to be located on the main floor. A new fur department will be situated on the second floor. Another new feature will be extensive interior decorations, suggestions for which were secured by Milton Mazor in an extended tour of the East, spent conferring with leading architects and designers. The misses' department will be done in orchid; the sportswear department in mulberry, a popular new shade, women's in French gray, and the infants' in pink and blue tones. Special attention will be given the fitting of the great display windows that are planned. New schemes for decoration and lighting, secured by Mazor in New York, will be put into effect.

INGENIOUS DEVICES

Augmenting the service which Manheim & Mazor have provided, a feature will be ingenious new devices and fixtures for display of goods. On the second floor there will be twenty-fitting-rooms and a special sales or "costume" room done in the fashion of a miniature ballroom with full-length mirrors designed to give the proper background for the department of party and evening gowns, of which the shop will make a specialty.

In addition the comfort and convenience of customers will be cared for. There will be a large, airy rest-room, containing telephones, easy-chairs and lounges, writing tables and materials, newspapers and magazines and other accommodations. On the mezzanine floor, there also will be the firm offices, the manicuring and children's hair-cutting parlors and display-rooms for corsets and brassieres. On the first floor shoes, waists, petticoats, sweaters, silk underwear and hosiery will occupy most of the space. The basement will be devoted exclusively to bargains.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE

The concern started in 1906 on a site at Twelfth and Washington, double the size of its present location, is now dealing in suits, coats and millinery. Growth started immediately. In 1902 the store was moved to Twelfth and Clay streets, where it occupied a site containing 1775 square feet of floor space. Five years later the space was tripled, two other neighboring stores being absorbed. In 1912 the establishment outgrew its quarters and moved to its present location on Clay street, between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets, where it occupies three floors with a mezzanine floor and basement, totaling 5750 square feet. Growth since then has been so rapid that the store now accommodates the business but the new store on Broadway.

The men composing the firm are Paul H. Manheim, president; Milton Mazor, secretary; Morris Mazor, vice-president and manager. All have been actively engaged in municipal and public affairs for many years. Through their affiliation with the Chamber of Commerce, the United Progress and Prosperity committee and other civic bodies. Annually Manheim travels six times to New York, in addition to sending many experienced buyers to the city. Mazor with a great New York office which represents fifty-two stores in the United States.

Recreation Defined by Oakland Expert

The American people are fast losing their ability to entertain themselves in the face of a multitude of artificial methods of entertainment, according to the statement of J. B. Nash, director of the Oakland Recreation department, in addressing the student body of Mills College yesterday afternoon.

This change in the attitude of Americans toward recreation, he attributes to three reasons which are: The great leisure time; the ease of transportation; and commercial enterprises resulting in passive recreations such as dance halls and moving picture houses.

"The recreation problem is closely allied with that of Americanization," Nash declared. He outlined the organization and aims of the Industrial Athletic Association as an example of the Oakland recreation department's work.

Moose Lodge Plans New Oakland Home

One of the most important meetings held by Oakland lodge of Moose for a long time will be that of tomorrow night when a report will be made by the building committee of the lodge on the feasibility of the new club house this organization is to build. Oakland lodge now has a membership of more than 3000 and ranks with the leading fraternal organizations on the Pacific coast.

The membership committee consists of W. J. Hamilton, chairman; A. E. Moffitt, H. E. Elder, A. J. Donovan, Daniel Read, W. F. Gilson, J. Traylor, H. Luckenbach, W. J. L'Heureux, John Mott, W. J. Baccus, M. Goldwater, I. H. Spiro and J. Vander Nollen Jr.

The new club house is to be a masterpiece of the Oakland recreation department's work.

NO MORE GOVERNMENT LOANS.

In these columns of THE TRIBUNE of Tuesday appeared a discussion of the wildly conceived rumors that the United States government had been asked to make another loan, of over thirteen billion dollars, to Europe and that a pledge had practically been given that the request would be complied with. It was explained that the only proposal of a new loan by the federal government likely to be discussed was the refunding loan to cover credits granted to the European Allies during the war and the several months following the conclusion of the armistice.

According to information from Washington received since Tuesday the refunding loan has been the subject of conversations between officials of the Treasury Department and financial attaches of the British, French and Italian embassies. It is these discussions which have apparently been utilized as the basis for the false reports that this government was about to make further gigantic loans to foreign countries.

But it is stated by the Treasury Department that the refunding operation will not in any way give an additional dollar to any foreign government. It provides simply for the conversion of the present short-term paper held by the Treasury, as evidence of Allied debts, into long-term securities of a fixed and uniform rate of interest and dates of maturities. This substitution of long-time loan bonds for the provisional credit agreements entered into during the period when the credits were being extended is in accordance with the law.

In converting the numerous acknowledgments of debt into formal and secured loans, the interest for the next three years on the $10,000,000,000 advanced will be converted into the principal of the loan, which will have the effect of deferring interest payments for the three years.

It is announced that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Rathbone is now in Paris working out the details and preparing the documents for the new arrangement. The basis on which the refunding of the war credits is to be effected was agreed upon several months ago.

Mr. Herbert Hoover, in a published interview yesterday, said the government should not loan any more money to Europe, but that the credits absolutely necessary for commercial transactions should be the subject of arrangements between private interests in this country and private interests in Europe. Mr. Hoover speaks from a knowledge of what is to ensue. No additional credits have been authorized by Congress and the leaders of both houses have unmistakably indicated their disapproval of any proposal of additional loans by the government.

ROBBERS WHO SLAY.

Another strange twist to the psychology of jurors is exposed in the course of the trial in San Francisco of bandit McClure for the murder of a policeman. The jury declined to reach a verdict, being equally divided on whether the accused was guilty of first-degree murder or second-degree murder. It has been discharged and another trial will be necessary.

Yet just before killing the police officer, the accused had committed robbery. He had gone to his first crime armed to commit murder if necessary to the success of his scheme of robbery or in preventing apprehension by the authorities should he be discovered. He was not obliged to commit murder in order to steal, but murder was in his heart all the while. He did commit murder in attempting to escape with his loot from the authorities. His slaying of the policeman was the result of cold-blooded calculation. It had been planned in advance. He had said to himself long before the hour of his crime that he would kill whoever attempted to interfere with him. There was no doubt in the minds of the jury that he had killed the policeman.

But the jury was divided as to whether the murder was of the first or second degree. What influence prevented the jurors from passing upon the evidence as they received it? What agency introduced the demon of doubt as to whether the bandit was a murderer of the most cold-blooded and dangerous kind? There is no more heinous offense, except acts of degenerates, than murder for the purpose of robbery or murder to escape with the spoils. Perhaps some psychic influence, such as a woman recently claimed to have exercised on a jury in southern California, acted as the compulsion for a fruitless trial.

SHIPS THAT MEET THE ENEMY.

In the controversy over the question of the award of honors for noteworthy service by officers and men of the navy in the war, public judgment is almost certain to rest with Admiral Sims in his protest against giving the highest award to commanders who lost their ships. At first glance this stand has the appearance of impregnability. And on the other hand, the Secretary of the Navy, whose office is a political gift from the President, is at a disadvantage because of this fact and because he reversed decisions of the naval board of awards in order to give a distinguished service medal to officers whose ships had been lost to the enemy.

But putting aside the possible political factors for the instant, is the position taken by Admiral Sims indisputably sound? Must it inevitably be true that a commander of a warship lost in contact with enemy naval forces must be held less deserving of recognition than a commander who never saw the enemy? Does it necessarily follow that a commander and his men who went down before the enemy was incapable of valorous and distinguished service?

The measured answer to these questions is "No." The ship that gets in touch with the enemy, in pursuance of proper orders, is usually the ship to be praised. In the submarine warfare which Germany conducted, it was more or less accidental if an Allied warship encountered the enemy in certain zones or avoided him in others. There was no exclusive merit either in evading or encountering a submarine, since all the American ships in European waters were equally alert. Unfortunately there was no infallible device or method by which submarine attack might be avoided. Constant vigilance was rewarded in most cases, but it has not been charged that the commanders of torpedoed ships were not as vigilant as those of ships that escaped.

A commander and crew of a torpedoed warship who fought until their vessel sank and then took their chances in the open sea surely displayed admirable courage. A commander who in the face of inevitable vanquishment sank his ship or fought the enemy until his ship was destroyed, might easily be deserving of the highest recognition in the power of the national government. It is no disgrace to encounter the enemy; it might be a disgrace to avoid the enemy and certainly unresisting surrender would be shameful.

John Paul Jones, Decatur, Lawrence, Perry and Farragut all lost ships in sea combat; yet the country has not ceased to honor their memory. Admiral Sims may be correct in saying that no commander who lost a ship in the last war deserved a distinguished service medal; all may depend upon the specific circumstances in each case and the admiral is best qualified to speak on that point. But as a general rule, his dictum must allow for exceptions or it cannot be sustained either by history or reason.

The position of Mr. Daniels is embarrassing, because it so happens that a nephew of Mrs. Daniels, Commander Bagley, had his ship torpedoed by a German submarine and his name is among those to whom the Secretary of the Navy, ignoring the recommendation of the board of awards, gave a distinguished service medal.

A Stockton judge has a cure for speed maniacs in motor cars which ought to be effective. It is to take away from the offender his car and the privilege of riding in a car and compel him to walk wherever he wishes to go. Safe, sane and sound correction. Very few pedestrians endanger others by turning over, running into a street car or train, colliding with an auto truck or running into a telegraph pole. Other cities might profit by copying Stockton.

MINISTER AND MAN.

Spurred by shouts of "Put 'im down, parson," it took Mr. Clephan exactly three minutes to pin the shoulders of Charles Slater, West Side candy maker, to the mat for fail No. 1. Slater pinned the parson's shoulders down in four minutes, then they quit—even.

The parson of this brief sketch is the Rev. August Clephan, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Columbus, and the match referred to was held at the church recently under the auspices of a nonsectarian community club fostered by the church organization. The "show" was arranged for the launching of a drive for a gymnasium at St. John's. Before the performance began Mr. Clephan said:

"We're come to point where we can't eternally damn the man in the street because he doesn't go to church. We've got to go to chasing him in the street, and this is a bit of the chasing."

The chasing has been a long time in coming to pass, and only a little bit of it is now being done, although somewhere there is a command which speaks about going out into the highways and hedges and compelling them to come in.

Of course a preacher who compels a crowd to come to church by means of a wrestling match in which he participates is looked at askance by some these days. The minister who departs from customs and behavior sanctioned by the centuries unfortunately attains an undesirable notoriety in certain circles and is shortly discarded. The same thing happens to a minister who departs from the theological fences and strays round among the men of the street rather freely.

NOTES and COMMENT

General Wood, for one who is so palpably out in front in the presidential race, is singularly reticent. His popularity is said to result in considerable part from his Rooseveltian trait of always carrying through whatever he undertakes; but in his reticence he departs from the habit of his great patron, who was prone to utter himself voluminously on whatever was to the fore.

San Francisco, not especially noted for innovations which bring down prices, is making a success of the sale of 12-cent milk. Making all deductions and allowances, the idea is pretty sure to obtain that if San Francisco can achieve in this way, other cities can approximate it, if they cannot follow suit. The source of supply of milk must be practically the same. Any differentiation in expense must occur on the way from producer to consumer.

Everybody is interested in the singular accident to the Harrison-street bridge, and some may wonder if it will get the Southern Pacific Company into a heartier attitude toward the proposed new structure.

"The way of a maid with a man" might be paraphrased into "The way of a girl with a murderer with equal aptness. The idea is suggested by the outcome in the Schoemans case. One of the defendants was willing to plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter, but the jury couldn't reach an unanimous conclusion as to any degree of culpability.

Jersey City police escorted Victor Berger to the city limits. The fact that there was no relief squad of Federal officers to continue the procession emphasizes a deficiency in our official equipment that might well be rectified.

Things do not appear to be coming William Jennings Bryan's way as readily as was his wont. His resuscitated league which was naturally expected to revive his venerable efforts for the Presidency, but which stayed after a new god in the person of former Ambassador Gerard, is an instance in proof.

The outside world is likely to consider the dismissal of the remaining indictments against Mooney as the result of the defeat of his Nemesis, former District Attorney Fickert. But it does not seem to be so. In fact, the presence of the cases on the docket were held to afford a possible way for him to escape, through another trial from the sentence already imposed.

Many unusual happenings resulted from prohibition. The explosion of a whisky still in a dwelling at Portland, wrecking the building and lacerating the would-be distiller, is in point. Such accidents do not create general commiseration, however. It is at least felt that one who undertakes that sort of thing should understand the explosive power of steam.

The burglar and all-around appropriator of others' belongings has now turned his attention to hoarded booze. Instances are reported where he has passed by diamonds to gather in bottled treasure. This is one of the singular changes of this singular age.

Senator Fletcher's proposition to deport anarchists to an island might be worth considering. But the island should be set in a vast expanse of secluded water, with a sign warning off all casual craft. Such preserves should be kept for the exclusive enjoyment of its inhabitants.

The surprise that the President intimates that he has in store for Congress cannot be expected to class with that occasioned by the Senate action on the Peace pact. He is not likely to get even in that way.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

An interesting suit to all tree lovers has been brought in Fresno, where a property owner seeks judgment for $1000 and the destruction of six eucalyptus trees which he claims have damaged his property. The trees are said to be picturesque specimens of giant size and great age. The man whose property is near claims the trees drop their leaves and refuse to let the wind, clogging the drain pipes and gutters. He also vows the trees send their heavy roots under the walls of his building have cracked and endangered them. Call the witnesses. Were the trees there before the building? Are six ancient and beautiful trees worth more than $1000 or are there more? It looks to the writer as if it might be easy to establish a counter claim in a city where fine old trees are as great an asset as they are in Fresno.—Stockton Record.

Few of the present generation in San Benito county can realize that just a little more than fifty years ago the present site of this city was nothing but wheat fields and sheep pastures and that Hollister had its beginning only 52 years ago.—Hollister Free Lance.

Municipal Christmas tree exercises in Pioneer park suggest something. It could hardly be said that the community singing was a great success—because the community mostly stood still and listened. But there is no reason why such a plan might not lead to a very pleasant and not altogether unprofitable hour late Sunday afternoon, if a plan could be worked out by which several thousand people could be brought together in the park, and led by piano and cornet and an official director, could be induced again to use their voices and sing the songs of youth. Not necessarily the songs of youth, but the songs of youth today have such a rejuvenating effect as to absorb some of the pep and experience some of the thrill that goes with a great volume of song, under the baton of a conductor who knows how.—San Bernardino Sun.

THE MERCHANT MARINE.

To the Editor of The Tribune: I read in THE TRIBUNE, under date of December 30 last, that the city council of Oakland had adopted a resolution urging the representatives of California to place sufficient funds in the hands of the Shipping Board so that enough vessels could be allocated to this coast to give Pacific Coast importers and exporters an even chance in open competition with Japanese interests. That is well, but would it not be more to the point and in the best interest of all concerned that they vote also upon our Senators and Representatives giving the pressing need of legislation leading up to a merchant marine policy, for I doubt very much if the Shipping Board will take further action in the allocation of ships until such a policy is formulated.

Two programs are now before Congress. One has been proposed through a bill introduced by Senator Jones, chairman of the Senate commerce committee, the other by Representative William S. Green, chairman of the merchant marine and fisheries committee. In an article in Sea Power: "The purpose of both bills is to turn the ships over to private concerns and repeal the emergency war shipping laws. In both bills the Shipping Board is continued and the Emergency Fleet Corporation abolished. About the only new features in the Green bill are the provisions which eliminate the war powers of the President over the Shipping Board. In reality Congress would assume direction of the Shipping Board.

"The Jones bill goes farther and provides for what appears to be a constructive program under which American shipping can be expanded and developed along well defined lines. At least it gives the country something to think about in consideration of this pressing problem.

"The Shipping Board by the Jones bill is placed in the status with water transportation that the Interstate Commerce Commission occupies with the railways.

"But the distinctive new feature of shipping legislation which is included in the Jones bill, is the creation of the United States Merchant Marine Corporation, to sustain and build up the merchant marine. This corporation is authorized, in the language of the bill, to do 'anything that is necessary to produce and encourage the maintenance of such merchant marine and such ship-building and repair plants as will be necessary for the national defense and for the proper growth of our foreign commerce.' It is specified that 'none men of high standing in their professional business or work' are to compose the board of directors for the corporation. Three of them are to come from the Pacific or Rocky Mountain section. They are to be appointed by the President for a term of eight years. They are assigned to the great work of using the emergency fleet in making the United States a contender for the trade of the world.

"After building up a route it will be the policy of the Merchant Marine Corporation to sell the ships on the route and their goodwill to private concerns. It is enjoined from competing with established routes, but is instructed to cooperate with private concerns in building up routes."

The situation that confronts us is about this: We are comparatively inexperienced in financing, building and operating ships. We have to have, for national safety and commercial success at least 15,000,000 tons of shipping, to be maintained and increased as the trade grows. What shall we do to bring it ultimately into private hands, insure its maintenance and development to meet the needs of national safety and commerce and at the same time return to the people the greatest part of their investment?

Senator Jones is quoted as saying: "An American merchant marine, built in American yards by American labor, by American capital, operated and manned by American seamen, carrying American commerce to all parts of the world and flying the American flag, has been my dream of many years, and it is my purpose to do whatever I can to attain this end, and I will support any measure and any policy that will give a reasonable assurance of accomplishing this great object."

Congress is beginning to feel the pressure of public opinion and during the approaching session the merchant marine will consume much of the attention of both houses of Congress. JOHN S. ENGS.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Baths, a New and Effective Treatment for Serious Burns

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

Burns are painful, dangerous and often fatal if a quarter or third of the body surface is severely burned. The application of 1 per cent picric acid, aluminum solutions, paraffin or the chlorinated soda solution are usually over small areas, but a child burned over a large part of his anatomy requires something more soothing.

Dr. Davis Foster of New Smyrna, Florida, reports a method which appears to have done well especially for a boy of 16, who was burned in an explosion on a gasoline launch. The victim made his escape through the flames, and wrapped in a sheet was rushed 50 miles in an automobile to a hospital.

The boy's face, arms, hands and back were burned. Even his knees and abdomen did not escape. He was delirious, although under the influence of codeine. The burns were at first washed in chlorine and water-soaked sheets wrapped around him and constantly renewed. After the victim was dried the affected areas were covered with paraffin applied with a cotton mop. A large-meshed layer of gauze, coated with paraffin, advised by war surgeons, was found to be troublesome and easily detached. Light meshed gauze proved to be better and was used daily.

Flows of water and a diet milk diet every four hours with codeine to relieve the pain, was all the food or drink allowed the patient.

His blood gradually became more and more poisoned and his fever and pulse rose high.

It was evident that the treatment was a failure; so it was decided on the fifth day to place the sufferer in a bathtub full of warm 2 per cent boric acid water at blood heat, warming it to the comfort of the patient.

He remained in the tub one hour and was distinctly improved in kidney action when taken from the bath. It appeared that the patient had absorbed needed moisture through the burned away tissue areas and the flushing of the kidneys was evident.

When removed from the bath the bleeding parts, particularly the hips, were coated with boric acid vaseline and the other parts were dried before paraffin was applied.

Favorable beyond expectations were the results. The next day the patient was kept in the bath three hours. Peeled, burned flesh was detached and the baths continued daily in plain strong salt water.

At first the severe neck burn seemed to indicate that the head would be contracted by the scar toward that side. The baths, however, seemed to do away with this and the improvement was final.

It was remarkable to see the skin come in over the raw surfaces, growing as much as an inch in a day, to cover a surface as large as two outstretched hands.

The baths helped to loosen the bandages and cotton which stuck to the burned fabric. Usually removal of this tears away the new skin.

After a few weeks, the brave little fellow was out in the sunshine and in a month all told was healed and well.

Here, evidently, is a new, simple and effective method of treatment for burns, which have so often destroyed the lives of children, whose careless parents allow them near open fires or within reach of matches.

MEXICO QUAKE VICTIMS MAY EXCEED 3000

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
MEXICO CITY, Wednesday, Jan. 7.—The estimated casualties attending the earthquake Saturday in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz still stands at 2000 or more. Despatches from the stricken area do not estimate the damage done, nor do they give accurate lists of dead.

Fragmentary advices received here would indicate the toll of death may exceed first estimates. It is said the village of Saltillo has been virtually destroyed and that 85 bodies were recovered from the ruins on Tuesday. Thirty bodies have been taken from the Pescadero river at Apaham, Pueblo and San Carlos.

Despatches tell of the pitiable plight of survivors of the disaster, many of whom lost their homes and are living in the open in hourly fear of renewed shocks.

FOREIGNERS AID IN
RELIEFING SUFFERERS

Relief measures are gradually taking form and a fund has been started in this city, foreign colonies making liberal contributions. Military expeditions with ambulances, doctors and supplies contributed by individuals, municipalities and the government have been sent into the affected districts. Many petitions have been sent to the Archbishop of Mexico to send the famous Virgin de Lope remedies into the earthquake area from the shrine at Barro Colorado, where it is jealously guarded by Indians. This Virgin has figured in many disasters during the history of the country.

ANOTHER SERIOUS
EARTHQUAKE FEARED

New earthquake shocks were felt here this morning and fears were entertained that they were vibrations from another serious earthquake in the region of Mount Orizaba. Up till a late hour tonight no further advices had been received from the east, and some apprehension was still felt by the people. The shocks as registered at the astronomical observatory near this city were slight, beginning at 7:17 o'clock and lasting three minutes.

BANDITS FLOCK TO AFFLICTED AREAS

By RALPH H. TURNER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7.—The full toll of Saturday night's disastrous earthquake, followed by floods and fire, is not yet known. It is estimated to be apparent tonight.

Apparently reliable estimates placed the total dead around 2000, chiefly in the state of Vera Cruz, in the district surrounding the city of Jalapa. Several hundred persons are dead in the state of Puebla, where, according to a despatch to the newspaper El Democrat tonight.

The town of La Pragua, on the border between Vera Cruz and Puebla, was reported to have been destroyed with hundreds of persons killed. The government has started relief trains into all the stricken areas, it was announced, but many of these trains are menaced by bandits, who are active in several of the districts where the disaster was worst.

Martial law has been declared wherever it was possible to send troops to preserve order and assist in clearing away wreckage. Bandits are particularly thick in several of the afflicted areas, some of the districts being entirely under bandit control.

Cupid Delivers Knockout Punch to School Books

MISS KATHRYN NASH, who, until she defied parental objection to her marriage, was Miss Kathryn Mather, Berkeley schoolgirl.

Berkeley High Students Are Married Over Maternal Objections.

BERKELEY, Jan. 8.—School books were cast aside and parental objections swept away with the marriage last night of Miss Kathryn Mather, 18 years old, and Elwyn Nash, two years her senior, both until recently, students at Berkeley High school.

The marriage took place quietly at the Mather home, 1337 Cedar street, after the objections of the mother of the prospective bride and bridegroom proved unavailing.

Shipping to Oakland last week Miss Mather and Nash returned to Berkeley with a marriage license. "Give your consent or we'll run away," came the announcement from the boy and girl. Appeals to the young people to finish their schooling fell on deaf ears, and parental consent was finally given yesterday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Dean of San Francisco.

Miss Mather would have completed her course at high school in six months. Nash's studies were interrupted by the war, during which he served in the Marine Corps. Returning to Berkeley recently, he re-entered school.

Miss Mather is a daughter of the late Dr. S. R. Mather, well known San Francisco physician, and of Mrs. Mather of Berkeley. At high school she was active in dramatics and is a clever whistler and pianist. Nash is a son of Mrs. J. T. C. Nash, of 2538 Cedar street, his mother being known for her mother's club activities.

SCHOOL TEACHES COOKING

A course in cooking is being offered at Oakland Evening High school, Twelfth and Jefferson streets, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9:30. Miss Katherine Wachler is in charge of the course. Instruction is free, though a small fee is charged to cover the cost of materials used. Applications for entrance into this class should be made tonight, if possible, at the Oakland High school, Twelfth and Jefferson streets.

WIND CAUSES MILD HAVOC WITH WAVES

The stiff breeze that whistled through Oakland and the Last Bay cities last night whistled again this morning, leaving nothing more serious in its wake than a record of falling street lights and a collection of fallen branches and signs. No one was hurt and there were no fires.

The wind, which has been blowing in Northern California with more or less vigor since Saturday, reached a velocity of forty miles off Point Reyes at 10 o'clock last night. Off the Farallones it jumped from 18 miles to 35 miles within a few hours, but subsided again this morning.

For several hours last evening East Oakland was without street lights, fallen branches having interfered with the service to the electroliners and arcs. In the homes the service was interrupted on a number of occasions for a few seconds at a time, but the Pacific Gas & Electric Company reports that no serious difficulties were experienced. The telephone company has a similar report. "Curling sleepers" had anchored to the corners of their beds, and men who had collected rubbish heaps in their back yards rejoiced at their sudden disappearance. Indications are that the wind has blown itself out for a while.

ORANGE CROP DAMAGED.

Abnormally low temperatures were registered throughout the state last night, particularly in the south, where it is believed by fruit growers generally that severe damage has been inflicted on the seasonal crop of Valencia oranges and lemons.

The present spell of fair and cold weather now prevailing over the Pacific slope which has been marked by exceedingly cold mornings with heavy frosts and brisk winds, has been caused by an area of low pressure which overlies the northwest portion of the country.

Among those points reporting low registration to United States District Forecaster G. H. Willson, and the registrations are: Stockton, 27; Merced, 23; Lindsay, 23; Bakersfield, 21; Groville, 36; Colusa, 37; Paso Robles, 22; Chico, 28; Rocklin, 35; Bonita, 28; El Tajon, 28; Pomona, 26; Redlands, 28; Riverside, 34; Santa Barbara, 34. The low in Oakland for the twenty-four hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning was 42.

ALAMEDA TREES UPROOTED.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 8.—The wind and the trees waged an all-night battle in Alameda and the trees came out the victors. A huge cypress in McKinley park, planted by the late Judge J. A. Wasmere, was uprooted, narrowly missing the road of a residence adjoining the park. A big acacia at 1351 Versailles avenue went down, as did a tree on Broadway. A tree on San Jose avenue also was blown down.

The wind broke into the police station again last night, the second time this winter, smashing the glass in one of the police department doors.

Drinker Poisoned by Spurious Booze

N. Nicolaisen, a blacksmith residing at 5729 Bruce street, spent last night at the Emergency hospital recovering from the effects of formaldehyde poisoning. This morning he was taken to the Central police station to aid police investigation into the nature of the "rod of Asclepius" which he drank at a Tenth street and at several Broadway saloons.

He was found unconscious by police late last night and taken to the hospital. He said that last night he met two blacksmiths, a man named Neunson, and another, Charles Swanson, with whom he had the drinks.

Nicolaisen is 55 years old and a native of Denmark.

Coast Artillery Man Is Married to State Embalmers Board Secretary

Oakland Young Woman Wedded to War Hero, Who is Ordered North.

When Sergeant Arthur E. Gustafson, of the Coast Artillery corps, stationed at Fort Winfield Scott, received his orders to report to American Lake, Washington, Miss Bessie J. Wood, secretary of the State Board of Embalmers, decided it was her wedding day. The marriage, which took place in San Jose last night, had all the features of an elopement, except that the bride's family was left into the secret half an hour before the bridal couple started for the Garden City.

Miss Wood, who has been the heroine in a war romance and whose betrothal has been known for many months among her closer friends, suddenly decided that Sergeant Gustafson need not say adieu a second time and made hasty plans for her wedding. A telephone call to Bert Hocking, deputy coroner of Santa Clara county, set in motion the machinery for the ceremony.

BRIDE LEAVES LATER

Mrs. Hocking opened her San Jose home to receive the couple while her husband summoned Rev. Wm. Keeney Townner, formerly of Oakland, to officiate. Immediately following the ceremony, Sergeant Gustafson and his bride left on a brief honeymoon. When the artilleryman leaves for American Lake, his bride will not accompany him, but will join him later.

Sergeant Gustafson, who is a civil engineer, enlisted in the regular army immediately following the declaration of war by the United States. He was sent to the Front where he first met Miss Wood, who was engaged in active war work. Before he went overseas he had won her promise to marry him. Sergeant Gustafson participated in several major battles of the war. His enlistment will end in two months.

PROMINENT CLUBWOMAN

Mrs. Gustafson is widely known in business, club and political circles throughout the state. Recently she received re-appointment by Governor Stephens as secretary of the State Board of Embalmers. She was the first woman in California to be licensed in the undertaking business. Twice has she been a candidate for commissioner of finance in Oakland. She is a national director of the American Purple Cross Society. Besides serving as president of the Professional and Business Woman's club of Oakland, she is a director in the Oakland club, in Oakland center, California Civic League, and is active in the affairs of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Mrs. Gustafson is a sister of Miss Alice Wood, Mrs. Esther Wood Snyder, director of the Girls' Division, War Camp Community Service, and Mrs. Annie Grant D. Miller, coroner of Alameda county. Her family is a pioneer one of the state.

Coal Dealer Told to Vacate Wharf

The passing of one of Oakland's old waterfront industries was marked this morning by notification served on the city council by James P. Taylor, coal dealer, of the expiration of his rental privileges of the wharf at the foot of Franklin street and the abandonment of the wharf and coal bunkers.

Warren recently asked the city council for permission to have the street wharf for more than 30 years, holding the property under lease for a number of years and later occupying the wharf under rental privileges. The property, which is under control of Commissioner of Public Works Soderberg probably will be converted into a berthing place for small vessels or warehouse sites and the old coal bunkers torn down.

Wind Uproots An Oakland Landmark

Another old landmark of this city was swept away last night when the wind uprooted a big cypress tree in front of the home of George R. Warren, druggist, at 12802 Fruitvale avenue. The trunk of the tree measured four feet in diameter. It proved to be hollow.

Warren recently asked the city council for permission to have the tree removed from the sidewalk area, expressing fear that it might blow down some time and fall on his home. As the tree had long been an ornament and landmark, the council decided that it should be allowed to remain. The tree fell in an opposite direction and the home escaped damage.

OIL MEN WILL DEFY MEXICAN DUTY DECREE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
MEXICO CITY, Wednesday, Jan. 7.—Petroleum producers in the Tampico district have formed a combination pledged not to pay recent duties on oil duty by presidential decree, according to Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury, interviews with whom were printed here today.

This is the only contribution levied by the treasury department that must be paid before the oil leaves Mexico, the secretary is quoted as saying. It is not paid exportation can be permitted, and it international friction should result, Mexico would have right on her side.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8.—An official investigation of the deaths of J. Roney and Earl Bowles, Americans employed by an American oil company in the Tampico district, has been ordered by the government, the foreign office announced today.

The men are reported to have been murdered by Mexicans, and General Francisco Murguia, commanding the Carranza forces in the oil fields, has been ordered to arrest the murderers and punish them severely.

No note regarding the death of the Americans had been received from Washington up to a late hour Wednesday night.

S.F. MUSICIAN IS KILLED BY CAIRO SOLDIERS' BLOW

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Animosities have been aroused between the British and Italian residents of Cairo, Egypt, over the killing of an Italian musician named Margoni by a British soldier, said an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Cairo today.

Margoni, who was a member of an opera company, came here from San Francisco. Margoni had chafed at an Egyptian for spitting upon a marching British soldier.

A soldier on police duty, not knowing the cause of the trouble, struck the Italian on the head with a stick and he died from the blow.
